

III INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE CONFERENCE FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS AND PhD's
REVOLUTIONS AND THEIR CONSEQUENCES OF YESTERDAY AND TODAY
Warsaw , 13th December 2013

Cardinal Stefan Wyszyński University

Organizers:

PhD Section of Science Circle of Political and Law Thought

Cardinal Stefan Wyszyński University kmpip@uksw.edu.pl

In the history of mankind there were and there are moments when it recognized and accepted status quo causes discord among its representatives. Then it comes to rapid changes, which we call revolutions. They also apply to every conceivable sphere of life and science created by man. From the most well-known - political and social, through purely a scientific to the spiritual revolution. Their scope and success, and the continued operation has a broad spectrum, virtually every discipline researcher can find "their" revolution. Then explore and explain all of the processes associated with it.

Let these issues be the inspiration during the III International Interdisciplinary Science Conference of PhD Students and PhD's: "Revolutions and their consequences of yesterday and today". We would like to kindly invite PhD's and PhD students in all fields of scientific inquiry from universities and research institutions from Poland and abroad. Subject of the revolution, and in particular their impact is consistently interesting to both academia and the general public. Therefore, we hope that this upcoming event will provide an opportunity to present the results of research and analysis and the sharing of experiences and the integration of young researchers from all scientific fields: humanities, social sciences, technology or health sciences. The registration forms for scientific conference should be submitted until 10th November 2013. We look forward to an interesting, far-reaching and bold thinking that can give a freshness and innovation to the theme that accompanies man from the beginning of time.